The Salt Lick baseball team and the Rounders, of this place, played a most interesting game on the Owingsville grounds Sunday afternoon. Salt Lick started off in the lead, making three runs to Owingsville's nothing. At the end of the seventh inning the game stood 5 to 1 in favor of Salt Lick. In the eighth inning Owingsville rallied and made three runs. Salt Lick failed to score in the first half of the ninth inning, and when Owingsville went to bat, the score was four to five in favor of Salt Lick. The Owingsville boys succeeded in making two base hits. With two men on bases and two men out the intense suspense lasted but a moment when a fortunate hit by Earl Thompson brought the two men home, winning the game by a score of 6 to 5.

"Two beggar women met on the street one day."

"Fine coat you've got there. Where did you land it?" said the first beggar woman.

"Old Mrs. Gobba Golde gave it to me," said the second beggar woman.

"Is that so? I've begged at Mrs. Gobba Golde's hundred of times, and she never gave me a cent. How did you work her?"

"Well, you see," said the first beggar woman, stroking her new coat complacently. "I didn't tell her I was begging for myself. I pretended I was begging for the heathen."

THIS WOMAN'S EXPERIENCE

Brings a Ray of Hope to Childless Women

Lowell, Mass.—"I had anemia from the time I was sixteen years old. It was very irregular. If I did any house-cleaning or washing I would faint and have to be put to bed, my husband thinking every minute was me last. After reading your text-book for women I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I feel fine. Sensitive Wash, and have never felt better than I have the last two years. I can work, eat, sleep, and feel as strong as can be. Doctors told me I could never have children. I was too weak, but after taking Lydia's Vegetable Compound I have given birth to an eight pound boy. I was well all the time, did all my work up to the last day, and had a natural birth. Everybody who knew me was surprised, and when they ask me what made me strong I tell them with great pride that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never felt better in my life." Use this testimonial at any time."—Mrs. ELIZABETH SMART, 142 W. Sixth St., Lowell, Mass. This experience of Mrs. Smart is surely a strong recommendation for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is only one of a great many similar cases.

Remarkable Strata.

While drilling a test well for oil on the Turkey Track ranch near Spearman, Tex., W. Scott Heywood and associates discovered a deposit of salt which is 111 feet thick. This salt strata was encountered at a depth of 700 feet, and what is said to be the most remarkable thing about it is that no water was encountered. Neither has there been any water found anywhere else in the well, which is now at a depth of more than 2,700 feet. The fact that there is no water above the salt bed makes the mining of the product an easy matter, it is said.

Right Thinking.

Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my Redeemer.—Psalm, XIV, 14.

All the cork used in the world is a year weighs little more than 1,200 tons.

Find the Cause

It isn't right to drag along feelings like this. You can't make them go away, you feel so badly and try to correct it. Perhaps your kidneys are causing that throbbing backache or those sharp, stabbing pains. You may have morning lameness, too, headaches, dizzy spells and irregular kidney action. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands of ailing folks. Ask your doctor!

An Ohio Case

Al. J. Miller, butcher, 335 W. Main St., Owingsville, Ohio, says: "I was troubled with a bad case of rheumatism and terrible misery across my joints. The pain was constant and a heavy feeling that nothing seemed to help; it was severe at night, making me unable to sleep. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me. I have had no sign of trouble since."

Limite of Submarine.

In a contribution to the submarine-versus-battleship controversy, Admiral Sir H. Bacon, quoted in C. Scientific American, states that because of the constructional conditions attending submarine design, a craft which navigates below water loses a large part of her surface fighting efficiency. Ton for ton, the fighting and scouting efficiency of a submarine craft of whatever size is only about 15 per cent that of the surface vessel. Sir George Owen Thruson, naval director of Vickers, Limited, gives figures to show that a submarine of 5,500 tons, having a surface speed of 30 knots, could mount an armament of only one 5.5-inch and one 3-inch gun.

Eating and Wasting Less Beef.

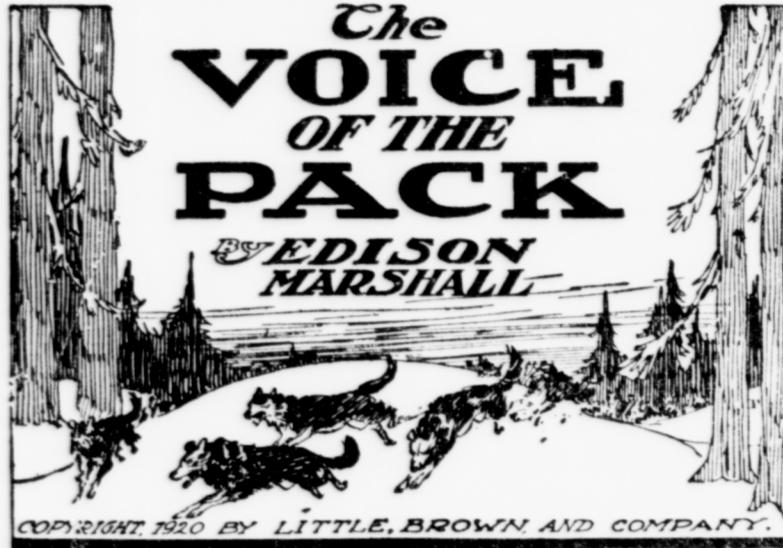

The United States Department of Agriculture reports that ten years ago the consumption of beef per head of the population in the United States was 78 pounds. Last year it was less than 56½ pounds. Beef consumption in the American household, it is stated, has undergone a great change during this time, especially in reducing waste.

He came stealing across the snow—a masher of the first degree. Very silently and swiftly he slipped off his snowshoes at the door. The door itself was unlocked, just as he had supposed, in an instant more he was tip-toeing a dark, silent figure through the corridors of the house. He held his rifle ready in his hands.

"Tell me where it is," Cranston ordered him. Again he pointed his rifle at Lennox's wasted breast.

"Tell you where what is? My money?"

"You know what I want—and it isn't money. I mean those letters that Failing found on the ridge. I'm through fooling, Lennox. I'm learned that long ago, and it's time you learned it now."

"I learned it because he was sick. He isn't sick now. Don't presume that."

"I can't raise my arms," Lennox said simply. "One of 'em won't work at all—besides, against the doctor's orders."

Cranston stole over toward him, looking closely for weapons. He pulled aside the wooden blanket that Lennox had drawn up over his body, and he pushed his hand into the cushions of the couch to find soft, damp pads, holding his rifle through the form of his arm, finger coiled into the trigger guard, assured him that Lennox was not "healed" at all. Then he laughed and went to work.

"I thought I told you once," Lennox began with perfect calmness, "that the doors of my house were no longer open to you."

"You did say that," was Cranston's quick reply. "But you see I'm here just the same, don't you? And what are you going to do about it?"

"I probably felt that you—or after you would come—should—no, after you would come—should—just to correct it. Perhaps your kidneys are causing that throbbing backache or those sharp, stabbing pains. You may have morning lameness, too, headaches, dizzy spells and irregular kidney action. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands of ailing folks. Ask your doctor!"

And don't have any such remarks out of you, either," Cranston answered him. "You lie still and shut up, and I suspect that silly border of yours will come back, after he's through embracing your daughter in the snow, and find you in one piece, Otherwise not."

"And I don't want any such remarks out of you, either," Cranston answered him. "You lie still and shut up, and I suspect that silly border of yours will come back, after he's through embracing your daughter in the snow, and find you in one piece, Otherwise not."

"If I were in one piece," Lennox answered him very quietly, "instead of a bundle of broken bones that can't lift its arms, I'd get up off this couch, unarmed as I am, and stamp on your foot."

"Did you think that was what I meant?" Cranston scowled. "I know a way to destroy those letters, and I'll do it—in the four seconds that I said, unless you tell. I'm not even sure I'm going to give you a chance to tell now; there won't be any witnesses then to yell around my house and I don't want them now. I don't want coyotes, either."

"And I don't want any such remarks out of you, either," Cranston added.

"They come in and be ready," Lennox replied evenly. "They always come in by the back way. And even with a pistol, Snowbird's a match for you."

"Did you think that was what I meant?" Cranston scowled. "I know a way to destroy those letters, and I'll do it—in the four seconds that I said, unless you tell. I'm not even sure I'm going to give you a chance to tell now; there won't be any witnesses then to yell around my house and I don't want them now. I don't want coyotes, either."

"They'll all right about you," he said.

"But you'd be a little more polite if that would be true."

Perhaps the color faded slightly in Lennox's face; but his voice did not change.

"They'll see your footprints before they come in and be ready," Lennox replied evenly. "They always come in by the back way. And even with a pistol, Snowbird's a match for you."

PROCLAMATION BY THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Naming the Second Week in May as "Kentucky Clean-Up Week."

WHEREAS, Official reports to this office show that 60 out of every 100 cases of sickness and 47 out of every 100 deaths which occurred in Kentucky last year—an average year—involved a total of 149,280 cases of sickness and 12,280 deaths, due to preventable diseases and a large extent to diseases caused or greatly aggravated and made more fatal by the pollution of the soil water and air by human and animal discharges and other filth in and around the homes in cities, towns and country districts, not actually connected with effective sewers, and

WHEREAS, Most preventable sickness and deaths are confined to people in early and middle life, often to young mothers and fathers, with the broken hearts and homes so often seen, and to say nothing of the needless suffering and sorrow resulting from these diseases, causing a great loss to the State almost beyond estimation.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, That the State Board of Health, by virtue of authority vested by law, and in the discharge of their duty, hereby manifest public duty, hereby sets apart and proclaims the second week in May, from Sunday, the 8th, to the succeeding Saturday, the 14th, as "Kentucky Clean Up Week", and appeals to the leaders of public opinion everywhere—heath and civil officials, women's clubs, teachers, ministers, physicians, the press and all other welfare agencies, and to every family in every community—to at once organize for this work in such ways as will make it effective. It asks the officials of every city and town to at once have the street and alleys cleaned so that, with this done, they may furnish teams and men to dispose of all accumulation collected on private premises and elsewhere, and to encourage the work for the entire week by offers of prizes for groups or classes doing it best.

By authority of the Board, this April 29, 1921:

JOHN G. SOUTH, M. D., Pres.
A. T. McCORMACK, M. D., Secretary and State Health Officer.

Sandalwood Long Prized.

Sandalwood is the product principally of the native state of Mysore, India, and the district of Coorg. Due to the development of the sandalwood oil extracting industry, the exportation of the wood from Madras has steadily declined, while that of the oil has increased. Sandalwood is the most famous of all scented woods. Its use for perfumery and incense dates back thousands of years. The later Greeks regarded it as one of their greatest luxuries, and no festivities were complete without it. Sandalwood figures prominently in religious ceremonies and burial rites in China and other oriental countries.

BILIOUS CHILDREN

Black-Draught, Long in Successful Use, Praised by an Arkansas Mother, Soon Does Its Work.

Marmaduke, Ark.—Speaking of Thedorff's Black-Draught, which long stood in her household has become a favorite of "the family medicine." Mrs. Mary E. Hill, of Route 1, this place, says:

"When the children get bilious, I give them a couple of good doses, and when we have sour stomach, headache, or any liver or stomach trouble, we take Black-Draught. It is an easy laxative, and soon does that work. I certainly think it is one of the best remedies made."

Black-Draught acts on the jaded liver, gently, but positively, and helps it in its important function of throwing off waste materials and poisons from the system.

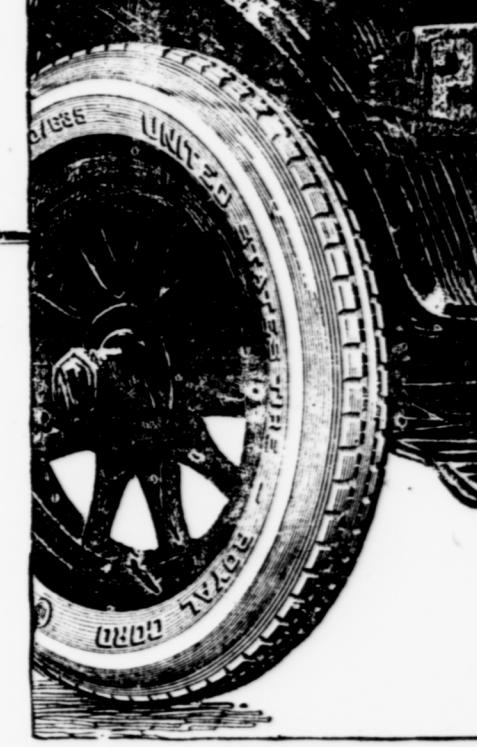

In thousands of households Black-Draught is kept handy for immediate use in time of need. Prompt treatment often saves half the battle, and will often prevent slight fits from developing into serious trouble.

Black-Draught has a decided merit, during more than 70 years of successful use, should convince you of the helpful effects obtainable by taking Black-Draught for liver and stomach disorders. Get a package today, and keep it in your house. See that the package bears the name, "Thedorff's Black-Draught." NC-141

Many will remember the scarcity of U. S. Tires last year.

A hardship at the time, but a benefit now. There are no U. S. Tires to be worked off—no accumulations—no forced selling of any U. S. brand—no shipping of tires from one part of the United States to another.

Almost every day you come across the man human enough to believe he can outguess the cut-price tag on "job-lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks."

His opposite is the hardpan car owner who sticks year in and year out to a standard brand as the only rational economy.

The owner of a medium or light-weight car stands on equal ground with every other car owner.

Any United States Tire is a universal full money's worth—backed up with a leadership policy of equal quality, buying convenience and price for everybody.
